Cascade Hemophilia Consortium Mission

The Purpose for Which the Corporation is Organized

To enhance the system of care for people with bleeding disorders and related complications, by assuring the lowest possible price for the full range of treatments, HIV and hepatitis related therapies and other medications available to treat their disease; to provide access to these medications for those without insurance or inadequate insurance coverage; to support the comprehensive hemophilia treatment centers in treating and educating consumers and their families so they may become knowledgeable and proactive in managing their own care.

A Message from Cascade's Board President

Dean M. Hindenlang
Cascade Board President

2020 brought about social, political, financial, and health concerns like we have not experienced in our lifetime. It also brought about a commitment to community, our neighbors, and our own health – staying safe took on a whole new meaning and purpose, during the last year. Cascade Hemophilia Consortium's staff and board of directors met many of these same challenges, unflinching in its commitment to improving the lives of individuals and families with bleeding disorders. Reaffirming its commitment to non-discrimination, allocating emergency COVID-relief funds to hemophilia foundations and the family's they serve, reallocating funding to allow for greater flexibility at hemophilia treatment centers, and preparing for even greater financial flexibility in 2021, Cascade has positioned itself to preserve its steadfast commitment to giving back to the bleeding disorders community.

As Cascade's new board president (and former vice president), it is my honor to help ensure that Cascade is well-prepared for the unknown while remaining squarely focused on the longtime commitment of giving back to families in need. As a non-profit 340B factor program, Cascade remains unparalleled in its superior pharmacy services, being offered by pharmacists who are experts in bleeding disorder medications. Is unmatched in its social service-based support by its team of social workers, each working tirelessly to offer you and your family the resources you need when you need them. And, a dedicated team of administrative professionals, who shepherd the fiscal, compliance, and regulatory tasks that allow Cascade to remain a staunch advocate for every single family that seeks out Cascade's myriad of services. We may spend our days ensuring that shipments of factor are delivered to your home when you need them most, but we also utilize our staff and board talents to ensure that you and your family are supported by Cascade's financial assistance programs when times are toughest. We have demonstrated this by investing our profits back into the bleeding disorders community since our inception in 1997.

I remain hopeful of what we will accomplish in 2021, as a nation and a community of individuals connected by our respective bleeding disorder. No matter what our new year may bring, Cascade is more determined than ever to ensure that you have the resources and knowledge to holistically care for your entire family and that our organization is well-positioned to support the bleeding disorders community, no matter the challenge or obstacles we may experience.

In support of our community,
Dean M. Hindenlang, M.P.A., M.S.
Cascade Board President

You Help the Bleeding Disorder Community by Using Cascade

We appreciate that you've chosen Cascade as your provider
As a non-profit 340B factor program, you can feel good that your choice benefits the bleeding disorder community in significant ways.

Primary goal: provide excellent and ethical services
Cascade's primary goal is to provide excellent and ethical services to our patients while ensuring our 340B savings are passed on to you and your insurance company.

In 1994, the Hemophilia Foundation of Michigan (HFM) and a group of community members developed Cascade as a self-governing, non-profit organization. Shortly after Cascade's incorporation, we were granted status as a 340B covered entity.

What is the 340B Program?
The 340B Drug Discount Program is a federal government program created in 1992 that requires drug manufacturers to provide outpatient drugs to eligible health care organizations and covered entities at significantly reduced prices. The income generated by these discounts allow us and other covered entities to support and expand access to comprehensive care/services to the bleeding disorders community.

Secondary goal: support patient care and education
Our second goal is to support patient care and education in our region. We do this by utilizing all revenue after expenses to provide financial support and services to our region's HTC's and Chapter Foundations. We support and partner with the HTC's and Foundations to provide direct patient care, educational conferences/events and emergency financial assistance for patients like you. By choosing Cascade as your provider, you have helped to provide over $56 million in total to the bleeding disorder community since 1997.

Great Lakes Region HTC Partners

As part of the Hemophilia Treatment Center Network, Cascade has worked collaboratively with your treatment center for many years. Staff members at Cascade have a long history in the community and thoroughly understand bleeding disorders and bleeding disorder care. In fact, some staff members have previously worked at HTC's and provide insight from that perspective. Cascade and our HTC partners meet regularly to ensure the process of meeting your needs runs seamlessly.
